HAIL STORM CAUSES DAMAGE

Folks in the insurance business are working over time as the result of the damage claims that have been pouring into their offices following the terrific hail and rain storm that occurred in Grayling and vicinity last Friday. It was a "blinger".

Roofs were damaged causing leaks, windows broken and painted finishes marred. Vegetable and flower gardens were a very sorry sight too.

The hail was the "Paul Bunyan" variety, large as silver dollars and some larger. It's no wonder it took its toll.

Church League Resumes Play

Action was resumed in the Church League last week, after a whole week's schedule was rained out.

Last Tuesday, in a pitching duel, Leo Lovely of the Catholics bested Bob Barnett of the Methodists, 3-2. Barnett allowed 2 hits, striking out 8; while Lovely gave up 3 hits and had 3 strikeouts. The Methodists collected all their hits in the first inning. Jim Burth's double was the best hit.

In the other game last week the Free Methodists took an easy 18-4 decision over the Baptists. Schofield was the winning pitcher. Max Luter, who started, was charged with the loss. Bielski and Hebel also worked for the Baptists. Cleveland and Dave Lowe each had three hits for the winners with Dick Dunham adding two. Lawrence Canfield had two for the Baptists.

In the one game played already this week the Methodists easily trounced the Free Methodists 12-2, behind the one hit pitching of Red Hamilton. Schofield was charged with the loss. Burth had two for the winners, with Joe Lowe getting the only Free Methodist safety. Barnett hit a home run.

The only other game this week is set for Tuesday, between the Methodists and the Catholics.

West Branch Wedding Of Interest Here

The wedding vows of Ellen Deborah Felling of West Branch and James Meistert Smith of Lapeer were solemnized at the First Methodist Church in West Branch on Sunday afternoon, June 27th, at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Warren Ware officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 65 guests. Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Gerold Baham of West Branch. Decorating the church for the occasion were baskets of white gladioli and pink carnations. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Ellen wore a street length dress of white, dainty over a pink, V-necked undershirt. It was fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and puffed sleeves. Her shoulder length veil fell from a tiny crescent shaped hat. She wore white mitts and carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Matron of honor was Miss Kathleen E. Wood of Midland. She wore pale pink with matching crescent hat, short veil, mitts and shoes. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank Dove, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Smith, his sister-in-law, both of Lapeer. They wore identical gowns and accessories of deep pink similar to the maid of honors, without veils. All carried nosegays of pink carnations.

Robert Smith of Lapeer was best man. Richard Smith of Lapeer and Ronald Wood of Midland, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Smith, graduated from Lapeer High School, Olivet College and attended Michigan State College, in East Lansing.

Following a honeymoon in northern Michigan the newlyweds will be at home in Lapeer, July 10th.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony the three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and white gladioli and pink carnations were used for decorations.

The bride's mother wore yellow with a matching lace over jacket. The groom's mother chose aqua. Each wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Among those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Olson, Neil Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick of Grayling, Mr. and Mrs. John Felling of Roscommon, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood, Ronald and Kathleen of Midland, and Miss Margaret Felling of Bay City.

The Clement Blaine family spent the week end in Bay City visiting friends.

Sportsman's Club Delegates Report

The M. U. C. C. convention held in Petoskey on June 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th had the largest attendance of any convention of this organization in its 17 years of existence. There were between five and six hundred delegates and guests present. Many men noted for their conservation activities appeared on the program. Among the outstanding speakers were Gerald Eddy, Director of Conservation for the State of Michigan, Dr. R. W. Eschmeyer, Executive Vice President of the Sports Fishing Institute, Washington, D. C., Milton Adams, Secretary of the Water Resources Commission, Alastair McLean, Chief of Information Service, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D. C., and H. D. Ruhl, Chief of Game Division who gave a very interesting report on deer, wild turkeys and related features. Another very important report was given by Dr. A. S. Hazard, Inspector of Fisheries, State of Michigan. His talk concerned problems of trout management.

Dr. Gerald P. Cooper, Fisheries Institute talked on the subject of the Warm Water Fish Program and Fred Westerman, Chief of the Fish Division, State of Michigan discussed in general the problems of his department and answered questions asked him by the delegates.

The matters voted on by the delegates that are of importance to Grayling sportsmen were 1. That 75 additional law enforcement officers be added to the present staff. After considerable discussion there was a vote in favor of this motion. 2. M. U. C. C. again this year as in the past recommended to the legislature that there be an open season on black squirrels. This was done after Harry Ruhl, Chief of the Game Division had reported to the delegates that there was an ample supply of black squirrels and that an open season would not deplete the supply. 3. The delegates voted in favor of the motion to prohibit the trapping of bob cats and recommended that a law be enacted to establish 4. A vote of yes was given to the recommendation that the camp license be changed to provide for the taking of one deer—any deer. 5. It was voted to have the conservation commission manage the deer season against poachers as they have in the past two years. This authority has been given the commissioners by the legislature for a three-year period and expires this year. 6. The question of head lighting (shining) deer was discussed and it was felt that the penalty under the present law is not severe enough. 7. The vote was "yes" on the question of prohibiting the shooting of bears at garbage and food dumps.

There was a general discussion about the possibility of issuing special deer licenses after the regular season is closed in order to reduce the deer herd in over populated areas. This matter was tabled for discussion at a later date.

Due to the fact that the Grayling Sportsman's Club does not have the regular meeting until September your delegates felt that this preliminary report would be of interest to you all.

School Builder Has Troubles

The Koenig Construction Company of Traverse City who have been awarded the contract to construct the new gym-auditorium for Grayling High School and who have a good start on the project, ran into a little trouble the other day.

During the evening after the crew had finished their day's work, a group of youngsters playing around the excavations, broke down an earth wall and tore up several stakes and lines used for leveling purposes.

The results, according to School Board President Jerome Kessler, were that the construction crew found it necessary to put in nearly an extra half-day to repair the damage done.

President Kessler stated that he felt that no harm was meant by the children playing around the building site, but that they caused the damage unknowingly. He asked parents to assist the Board and the builder by keeping their children away from the construction site.

POSTPONE GRAYLING ROAD MEETING

Unable to find a competent finance study expert, Michigan Good Roads Federation and have postponed until August their next meeting on a multi-million dollar road program for the state.

The meeting had been scheduled for July at Grayling.

Gerald W. Graves, of Alpena, secretary of the federation, said all known experts on highway financing, including Prof. John C. Kohl, of the University of Michigan, are too busy to help out.

"We have canvassed colleges and universities," he said. "Now we'll have to turn to banks and bonding houses for expert help."

He said another reason for the delay is the fact that it will take at least six weeks to negotiate a contract with the federal government for $25,000 to make an engineering road survey.

That money, with a legislative grant of $25,000, will give the probers $50,000 for a study to be made by the Automotive Safety foundation.

1,000 Scholarships . . . A Break for the Poor

C. Allen Harlan talks to a group of young people who are receiving a college education with the assistance of the Harlan scholarship program.

DETROIT—One of the largest private scholarship programs in America is that of C. Allen Harlan, fabulous donor of nearly a thousand college scholarships for young people of limited means.

Harlan, a tremendously successful Detroit electrical contractor, has two requirements that must be met by each scholarship applicant. First of all, the boy or girl must be poor. He emphasizes this because of the lack of material things during his youth that he remembers so vividly.

Second, the individual must be deserving of help.

By this Harlan does not mean that the boy must be an exceptional scholar. But he must have an earnest desire, an overwhelming will to be successful and become a constructive citizen.

PERSONAL INTERVIEWS

From each boy, Harlan requires a personal letter outlining his hopes and desires. In most cases, he talks to them personally in addition to investigating their background for both requirements.

Behind this revolutionary scholarship theory is Harlan's philosophy that people born without material advantages often have more latent promise than those endowed with every possible advantage. It is this same philosophy that has made his success story one of the most fabulous in a city of many amazing success stories.

In Harlan's own words, he was "just a country boy with a patch on his pants" when he came to Detroit.

His family was of very modest means but he did attend the University of Tennessee while holding down a full time job until the death of his father.

It then became necessary for the young man to support his mother and the younger children of the family which he set out to do by coming to Detroit in 1923 to work for an electrical contractor.

In 1929 Harlan struck out for himself with little capital but a tremendous belief in people and a knowledge of electrical contracting. Since that time his success has been meteoric. Harlan Electric Company now is the part firm of 16 contracting firms all over the United States, employing a total of approximately 10,000 people.

FINANCIAL OTHERS

Harlan insists that the success of his business is due to the loyalty, cooperation and enthusiasm

The "New Look" In Agriculture

We hear much of the great efficiency and productive power of American industry. We do not hear as much as we should of the efficiency and productive power of American agriculture.

Farm Journal recently said editorially, "Farmers produce so abundantly that 85 per cent of the population can now choose other kinds of jobs. If farmers were not so efficient, a lot more people would have to go to work farming. This is an efficiency that since before the war has increased farm output by about 40 per cent, and does it with 17 per cent less labor."

That speaks well for the progressive spirit of the American farmer. It is also a tribute to tools and techniques, often actually revolutionary in effect, which have been his allies. Electric power has been a tremendous force for better living and working on the farm. Chemistry has provided fertilizers and weed and insect killers of remarkable potency. And the farm equipment industry has come along with machines which produce more crops at a declining cost in time and money—and which are invaluable in the equally important task of conserving the land not only for future years but for future generations.

It is no exaggeration to say that the machines and the other tools do much to make the difference between an exceedingly well-fed nation and a nation on a subsistence or a near-famine basis. This will become all the more evident as the years roll by and there are millions more mouths to feed each day.

More On Soviet Living Standards

A number of analyses have been made of living standards in Soviet Russia. One of the most thorough and authoritative was conducted at Columbia University, and its conclusions have just been released.

The researchers studied the prices Soviet citizens pay for goods in the state stores and related them to income, and thus arrived at these citizens' "real wages." The conditions obtaining in various periods, beginning with 1926, were compared. Here is a summation of what was learned: "According to our calculations, the Soviet worker after the five-year plans has never been as well off in terms of real wages as he was in 1928. One of our calculations, perhaps theoretically the more defensible, shows he is still far worse off than in 1928."

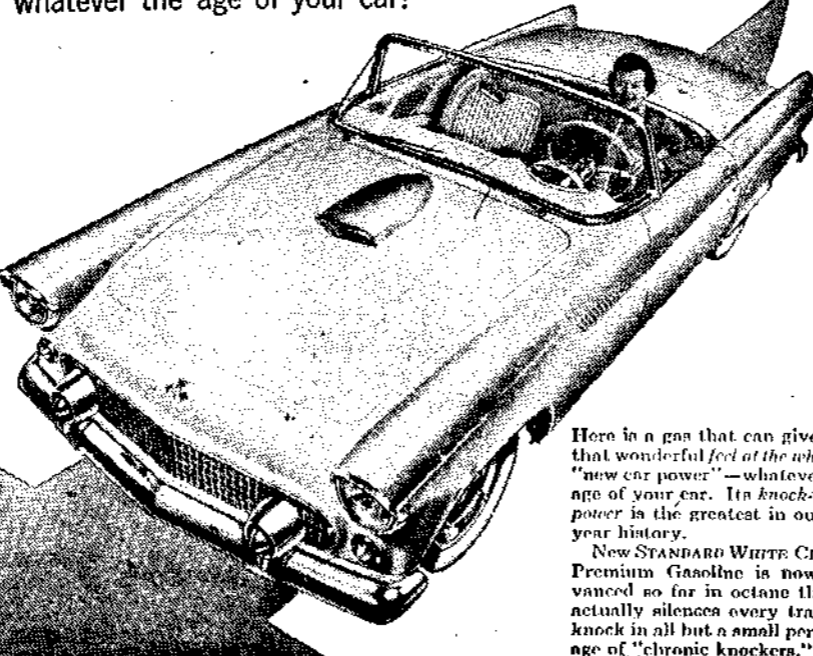

Many reasons can be advanced why this should be so. One of the most important, certainly, lies in the very nature of the communist economic philosophy. The state owns or controls all the agencies of production and distribution. It sets by fiat the price the shopper must pay, and it normally includes a huge profit in order to siphon off purchasing power. There is no competition in any reasonable sense of the word. That is a sure way to hold down living standards. By contrast, the highest living standards exist here in America where all enterprise, starting with producers and winding up with retailers, is an everlasting competition for consumer favor.

Letters To The Editor

Our Pets

We hear about the loyalty of dogs and cats, are we loyal to them? I myself am 86 years old, widowed 6 months ago. I am possessed with an abundance of mercy. I gave shelter to two dogs last winter, also bought food for them. They are beautiful dogs, one is a beautiful Collie, he loves children and anyone else who is kind to him. The other dog, a black shiny hound and young, he needs a home, the people who owned him, have forsaken him, moved away, also left a beautiful cat. Yes, left them to starve. The Collie dog lost his real master by death, then he has tried to find just one master who would love him and feed him. I am unable to care for these poor friendless animals. Have you a place for one of them? I speak for those who cannot speak for themselves. Lulu Flagg, Frederic.
